If you will complete and return this application we will develop a cost estimate for the training you have selected which will include the cost of living while you are in the USA. When you receive our cost estimate you must provide us with an affidavit in the form of a certified letter of credit, bank draft or other acceptable form of personal credit certifying that you have the minimum funds necessary for the training you have selected (your banker or other financial officer may be able to assist you). The letter of Credit for Funds certification will also be evaluated when you apply at the US Consulate for the VISA. Only after we have this application and your financial certification in hand will we complete and send you the I-20 "Certificate of Eligibility" for the VISA.
